

Concerning the ark !!

Noah's ark was NOT a ship !!

There are three other Hebrew words that could have been used if a ship was what was intended, H591, H6716, and H5600. H591 used in Genesis 49:13 and Deuteronomy 28:68; and H6716 being used in Numbers 24:24; all also in the Pentateuch.

Also Exodus 2:3 (LITV) And she was not able to hide him any longer, and she took a basket for him made of papyrus, and she daubed it with bitumen and with pitch. And she put the child in it, and placed it in the reeds by the lip of the Nile.

(ASV) And when she could not longer hide him, she took for him an ark of bulrushes, and daubed it with slime and with pitch; and she put the child therein, and laid it in the flags by the river's brink.

As the ark Moses was put in was shaped as a basket many commentators do not agree that the Noah's ark had the form of what we know as a ship !

"that the ark was built in the form not of a ship, but of a chest, with flat bottom, like a floating house, as it was not meant for sailing, but merely to float upon the water," (Keil & Delitzsch Commentary on the Old Testament)

"A flat-bottomed rectangular vessel" (The Bible Knowledge Commentary)

Moffet translation: "Build a barge of cypress wood"

If the ark in which Moses was laid is synonymous with reeds/bulrushes why not also Noah's ark ? We know that vessels of bulrushes/reeds were in use from the time of Job until the time of Isaiah.

Then how about a very low technology construction for Noah's ark using gopher trees/pitch trees/cypress and reeds/thatch covered with pitch ? Also what many translations call rooms or compartments of the ark are really nests !!

BDB Definition: H7064

1) nest

1a) nest (of bird)

1b) cells (like nests in Noah's ark)

Strong's Definition: a nest

Reed boats and rafts, along with dugout canoes and other rafts, are among the oldest known types of boats. Often used as traditional fishing boats, they are still used in a few places around the world, though they have generally been replaced with planked boats. Reed boats can be distinguished from reed rafts, since reed boats are usually waterproofed with some form of tar.[1] As well as boats and rafts, small floating islands have also been constructed from reeds. The earliest discovered remains from a reed boat are 7000 years old, found in Kuwait. Reed boats are depicted in early petroglyphs and were common in Ancient Egypt. A famous example is the ark of bulrushes in which the baby Moses was set afloat. ... Another site is Wadi Hammamat in Qift, Egypt, where there are drawings of Egyptian reed boats dated to 4000 BC[2] ... Detail. Fabrication of papyrus boats in ancient Egypt. ## Waters of the Flood

In the King James Bible the waters (H4325) are mentioned 21 times from Genesis 6:17 to 9:15 and rain (H4305 & H1653) three times. The flood/deluge (H3999) is mentioned 12 times from Genesis 6:17 to 11:10. None of these four Hebrew words have any connection with volcanism!! The only Hebrew word with a possible connection to volcanism is H5467 סֵדוֹם s'êdôm sed-ome', per Strong's Concordance.

Nowhere in the Bible does it say that volcanism was a part of the flood!!
